To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to offer my highest recommendation of TRC Construction Services, Inc. for their outstanding work for the City of Clarksville. We hired TRC Construction Services for a design-build project that will enhance the public parking infrastructure in our historic downtown.

From the outset, TRC and their staff have made the process of planning, design, budgeting and implementation straightforward. Brian Davis, President and COO, has been a present and active participant in every aspect of the project, particularly the engagement with the surrounding property owners to assure them the construction process would be done safely and efficiently.

Most notably, TRC brings years of experience in these design/build projects across the country. Their staff offer alternative solutions, and provide expert analysis to guide the owner, in this case the City of Clarksville, toward a project that meets the needs of the city while balancing the sensitivity of timelines and budget constraints.

Everyone on the City's project team has been impressed by the hands-on approach by TRC and their team of professionals. We even avoided protracted contract discussions with regular communications between the respective parties' legal and finance departments.

I have no hesitation in recommending TRC Construction Services for any project that requires a high level of professional review, proven expertise and experience in projects of any size or significance. They treat their customers as if they are the only project in their portfolio or on their schedule.

Sincerely,

Joe Pitts
Mayor
